PROJECTS

Image Classification Web App | Python, FastAPI, PyTorch | Github | Live Site | May 2026

- Built an end-to-end image classification system using a pretrained CNN (ResNet50) in PyTorch to predict object labels from user-uploaded images
- Developed a RESTful API using FastAPI to handle image uploads, preprocessing, and real-time inference
- Implemented image preprocessing pipeline (resizing, normalization, tensor conversion) to ensure compatibility with model input requirements
- Designed a lightweight frontend interface to upload images and display top-3 predictions with confidence scores
- Architected a client-server system enabling scalable model inference via HTTP requests

LeetCode Progress Tracker (Full-Stack Web App) | Python, React, SQLAlchemy, FastAPI | January 2026 - Present

- Designed and implemented a full-stack web application to track and analyze coding problem progress with CRUD functionality
- Built backend REST API using FastAPI and SQLAlchemy to manage problem data, including difficulty, topics, and solution notes
- Modeled relational database schema (PostgreSQL) to support efficient querying and filtering by topic and difficulty
- Developed interactive frontend interface to add, edit, and filter problems, improving usability and data visualization
- Integrated progress tracking features (e.g., problems solved over time, distribution by difficulty) to provide actionable insights
